

M

Man Abroad

Business, Class

A travel wallet allows you to be as organized as you are chic

→ The first time I traveled abroad, I had my passport strung from my neck in a burlap carrying case, an innovative system that protected me from pickpockets and attractive women. What I needed was a dedicated travel wallet, not a necklace. With one of these sophisticated leather versions, all of your documentation remains organized and accessible, and paying for a meal or checking in to a hotel doesn't suggest you were born and raised in Nerdville, U.S.A. —WILL WELCH

1. Bottega Veneta $550
 2. Tod's $445
 3. Smythson of Bond Street $555
 4. Mulholland Brothers $110
 5. Yves Saint Laurent $175
 6. Tumi $175
 7. Want Les Essentials de la Vie $195
- Where to buy it? See the Directory, page 315.